SOUTHEAST ALASKA COMMERCIAL GEODUCK FISHERY ANNOUNCEMENT

The Southeast Alaska Dive Fisheries Association geoduck committee met on Thursday, March 3, 2022, and voted to halt paralytic shellfish poison testing for at least two weeks. There is another Southeast Alaska Dive Fisheries Association geoduck committee meeting scheduled for Thursday, March 17, to reassess the situation and decide on the future sampling schedule.

Since there will be no paralytic shellfish poison testing, the geoduck fishery will be closed at least through March 24, 2022.
